

Disaster Preparedness Public Education

---

Emergency Management Division
Washington Military Department

- Background Emergency Management considers public disaster education to be one of its highest priorities and encourages participation statewide. Our vision is to have the best-prepared public in the nation.
- Goal The goal of the program is to encourage, support and empower local governments, state agencies, volunteer organizations, businesses and other privately sponsored groups who desire to increase their level of preparedness or engage in preparedness programs. The ultimate goal is individual self-sufficiency for at least three days following a disaster.
- Focus The focus is all-hazard disaster preparedness. This is accomplished through presentations; by assisting schools, businesses, and government agencies; conducting train-the-trainer classes; facilitating neighborhood preparedness courses; development of awareness and preparedness materials; outreach to Multicultural and Special Needs groups; coalition building and public-private partnerships. Development and implementation of the Annual All-hazard Disaster Preparedness Campaign which includes the Statewide Earthquake Drill.
- Material The Family Emergency Preparedness Plan, available in English and Spanish, is the primary publication used in support of this program. An abbreviated version of the Plan is available to download in 17 languages by visiting the Emergency Management's website at www.wa.gov/wsem. Preparedness materials are created for the April All-Hazard Disaster Preparedness Campaign, which can also be accessed on the web site. Other materials related to seasonal disasters are created and distributed throughout the year.
